LEAGUE CUP FINAL '82

LIVERPOOL have adopted a 'softly, softly' approach to Saturday's League Cup Final at Wembley.

Our preparations have been as low key as possible and we've tried to treat the big game against Spurs like any ordinary First Division fixture.

That's why we won't be travelling down to London until the day before the match.

The only change from our normal routine is that we'll be staying in a hotel outside the capital.

The big build up — staying in a hotel for three or four days before the match — only adds to the tension and there's also a tendency for players to over eat when they're away from home.

In fact, we won't even discuss the match until Friday and that's perhaps when the nerves will begin to show.

Personally, I won't feel any nerves at all until I get on the bus that takes us to the stadium. The butterflies reach their peak as you stand opposite the Royal Box and endure the formalities.

But it will be a proud moment for me and my family as I lead out the team as captain of Liverpool.

CLASH OF THE

We'll smash Ray's dream

says GRAEME SOUNESS

Contrary to popular belief, we'll be fielding a side that has less Wembley experience than FA Cup holders Spurs. Goalkeeper Bruce Grobbelaar, Mark Lawrenson, Ronnie Whelan and Ian Rush have never played at Wembley in a cup final, but I don't think they'll be overawed by the occasion.

These lads can play just as well whether they're at Hartlepool or Wembley, so I've got no fears about their temperament on the big occasion.

But there is one word of advice I'd give them. That is: 'Savour every Regular Match columnists Glenn Hoddle of Spurs and Graeme Souness of Liverpool talk about Saturday's big Wembley showdown in the Final of the League Cup, which will be re-named the Milk Cup next season.

precious moment of the day. It could be your last trip to Wembley.'

No matter how many times you play there, Wembley still has a magic appeal. My only regret on cup final days is that everything goes so quickly.

Last year's Final at Wembley was an anti-climax for us at the end because there was no trophy to present after our 1-1 draw with West Ham.

But I'd settle for the same sort of scoreline again — as long as we won the replay!

It would be lovely to be able to put on a showpiece for the fans, but there's usually too much at stake.

I regard ourselves and Spurs as two of the most entertaining teams in the country. Neither of us has found it difficult to score goals this season, but there won't be much given away at Wembley.

Spurs play a more individual game than us. They tend to rely on certain people to set up the chances, whereas we play a passing game.

Argentines Ossie Ardiles and Ricky Villa have a tremendous say in the running of the team. They've adapted so well to English football and, alongside Glenn Hoddle, help make up one of the strongest midfields in the country.

Having said that, there's plenty of other players who pose real threats, so we won't be going out and giving any one player special treatment.

It will be unusual to be on the opposing side to Ray Clemence after sharing so many memorable moments with him.

Meeting Liverpool at Wembley must be like a dream come true for the England keeper. I just hope we can upset that!

The news that the Football League had found a sponsor for the League Cup came as quite a surprise to me.

But I'm sure I speak for the rest of the players when I say that the Milk Cup will still be the League Cup to us.

It has been described as a 'Mickey Mouse' tournament in the past, but that's just not true. All 92 League clubs enter and it's as hard to win as the FA Cup.

The FA Cup is the most glamorous and still the most prestigious because it's so steeped in history. It's more than 80 years older than it's counterpart.

But I'm sure that in 100 years time, the League Cup will enjoy the same aura.

Now we're in the Final I'm just as determined to win it as I would be the FA Cup!

CUP HOLDERS!

It should be a classic says GLENN HODDLE

OURSELVES and Liverpool are arguably the two best teams in the country at the moment and, if we both play to our full potential at Wembley, it could produce one of the best League Cup Finals ever seen.

We don't fear anyone and I'm sure Liverpool feel the same way. If both sides can shake off the tension and get down to playing relaxed football early on, it should be a great game.

Spurs have had so many big games leading up to the Final, including our FA Cup-tie at Chelsea and Cup Winners Cup-tie against Eintracht, that we haven't had time to think about Wembley until now.

I just hope we haven't got any injury problems by the time you read this because it's crucial that we are at full strength for the Final, as it is for any side.

Our preparations for Wembley this time will follow pretty much the same format as they did when we played Manchester City in the FA Cup Final last year.

We'll be going away to our 'lucky' hotel. I say lucky because it's the one we used for the FA Cup Final and have since used for other big cup games.

They look after us so well and we feel so relaxed there that it's like a second home now.

Obviously we'll have had Liverpool watched and, in our final training sessions, we'll be concentrating on ways of combating their moves and creating our own.

Away from the training ground some players will relax by playing cards and others will wind down by watching TV.

The preparation is the same for any big game, but obviously come Saturday morning there will be extra excitement in the air.

When you start the coach ride to Wembley, it's a very special feeling, especially when you near the stadium and you see all the fans lining the streets.

On the way to the FA Cup Final last year, we were all singing along to our record 'Ossie's Dream' and we may well have another rendering on Saturday.

It's when you walk out onto the pitch and savour the atmosphere inside the stadium for the first time that the occasion really gets to you.

It sends a tingle down your back when you see all your fans and, in our case, a sea of blue and white

As for the game itself, I've already said I believe it could be a cracker and obviously we are quietly confident of victory if we play as we know we can.

I hope we've been able to maintain our long unbeaten record because that will serve as a big confidence booster.

In addition, we have more recent experience of Wembley than Liverpool and more of our players have tasted the atmosphere, which has to be a bonus.

Our two styles are different in that Liverpool like to get the ball forward a bit quicker where we have a more patient build up, but I believe we have the edge on individual flair which could be important on the day.

At the same time, we are playing very well as a team too. Everyone knows exactly what everyone else is going to do.

We'll obviously have to watch Liverpool's new front pairing of Kenny Dalglish and Ian Rush carefully, but we've got an equally dangerous partnership in Garth Crooks — now back in super form — and Steve Archibald.

Midfield will be an important area to win because both sides are classed as strong in that department.

Defensively, our record speaks for itself this season. I think we've had something like 25 clean sheets and I shouldn't think Liverpool are looking forward to trying to beat Ray Clemence in our goal.

We are yet to play Liverpool in the League so it's a dream for Ray to be facing his old team for the first time at Wembley!

His opposite number, Bruce Grobbelaar, will be making his Wembley debut and we'll be looking to seek him out as much as possible early on.

I just hope we're still in the FA Cup and have managed to secure a good lead in the European Cup Winners Cup Quarter-Finals.

There's no doubt we were too tense in the first FA Cup Final tie against Manchester City last year and, if we are still in with a good shout in four competitions come Saturday, it must help us relax.

That's not to say we'll be taking things any more easily.

Whilst the FA Cup is bigger than the League Cup in most people's eyes, it's still a Wembley Final and, having tasted success, we are greedy for more.

See you in a fortnight.

NICHOLL AT THE CROSSROADS

NORTHERN Ireland full-back Jimmy Nicholl fears he is in danger of becoming one of football's 'forgotten men'.

Following his return to Manchester United after a loan spell with Sunderland, Jimmy is now wondering where his future lies.

He was hoping that his spell at Roker Park would result in a permanent move from Old Trafford, but troubled Sunderland couldn't afford the £250,000 fee.

"I feel as though Manchester United have turned their back on me," says Jimmy, who lost his place when new manager Ron Atkinson signed John Gidman at the beginning of the season.

"It's better that I get a move as soon as possible. My contract at Old Trafford ends in the summer and I hope to be fixed up before then.

"I've faced the fact that I've got no chance in the United first team. My fear now is that I'll be forgotten and get neglected in the reserves."

And that's not the ideal preparation for the World Cup Finals in Spain.

"It's been a funny old season for me," says Jimmy, who was in the Northern Ireland team beaten 4-0 by England at Wembley.

"There's been the euphoria of helping Northern Ireland qualify for the World Cup Finals and then the disappointment of losing my place at United."

Jimmy is still hoping that a move to Sunderland might be revived.

"Although I don't know where I go from here, there's still a chance I'll end up as a Sunderland player."

"I'd love to join Sunderland. At the moment it's just a matter of wait and see."

Where do I go from here? That's what Jimmy Nicholl appears to be saying as he peers through a snowstorm at Old Trafford.

Slipping away...

DERBY'S bid to avoid relegation to the Third Division is not being helped by their away form.

Their 3-0 defeat at Queen's Park Rangers on February 20 was their tenth in a row away from the Baseball Ground.

And First Division West Ham are suffering similar problems on their travels.

Their 2-1 defeat by leaders Southampton on the same day was their sixth in succession.

BANKS IS BACK

FORMER England goalkeeper Gordon Banks is returning to Stoke City to coach goalkeepers Peter Fox and Eric McManus.

The former Leicester and Stoke star helped out at Sheffield Wednesday earlier in the season, working with his ex-England colleague Jack Charlton.

Commenting on Gordon's latest move, Stoke boss Richie Barker said: "He was the best in the business."

FRANK'S BOOSTER

A GOAL from St Mirren's Frank McAvennie has paved the way for Scotland to reach the Semi-Finals of the European Under-21 Championship.

He scored the only goal in Italy to give Scotland a vital 1-0 lead to take into the home leg later this month.

DOUBLE DUTCH WORRIES

DUTCH forwards Tony Van Mierlo and Bud Brocken are anxiously awaiting developments at Birmingham following the appointment of new manager Ron Saunders.

The former Aston Villa chief has never been tempted to join the race for foreign signings, and instead has relied on home-grown talent.

Both players have been operating in midfield roles for Birmingham although Van Mierlo prefers a forward position.

"I much prefer to play as a striker or given a free role in attack," he says. "I think my play has been very restricted by past policies."

BLACK DAY FOR BLYTH

JIM Blyth, Coventry's Scottish international goalkeeper, had no cause to celebrate his 150th League appearance for the club. His milestone arrived in the match at Liverpool where he was beaten four times to add to the five he conceded against Notts County just a few days before.

BOULTON GOES

THIRD Division Lincoln have cancelled the contract of former Derby goalkeeper Colin Boulton. He broke a leg in August 1980 after playing just four games for the club following his return from Los Angeles. During his long career with Derby, he won two First Division Championship medals.

COURT CALL-UP

YOUNG goalkeeper Colin Court could hardly believe his luck when he was plucked from Andover Reserves to play in the Third Division for Reading.

With regular goalkeepers Steve Death and Ron Ferson unavailable, Reading had to call up the 18-year-old.

But it was not a debut to remember for the youngster who was responsible for the goal that earned Swindon a 1-1 draw.

However, he was not alone. Swindon goalkeeper Jimmy Allan palmed the ball into his own net to present Reading with their goal.

INSIDE FORWARDS!

THIRD Division Bristol Rovers did a stretch inside prison recently. Manager Bobby Gould took his full first team to meet the prison side of Eristoke House who play in one of the local leagues. They went to prison because of their latest find, 20-year-old prison inmate Steven Edwards who has played for Rovers' reserve team. He has been given special day releases to train at Eastville and hopes to join Rovers on a full time basis later this year. But Steve was unable to prevent Rovers winning 11-0 even though Bobby Gould guested for the prison team in the second half.

Ward's winner

NOTTINGHAM Forest striker Peter Ward returned to Brighton to haunt his former team mates with the only goal in a 1-0 victory.

The £400,000 striker, forming a new partnership with debutant Calvin Plummer, scored a minute before half-time to end a Forest run of five League games without a win.

Ajax ace tempts Saints

DUTCH striker Tscheu La Ling could soon be making his mark in the First Division.

The Ajax forward scored twice in a guest appearance for First Division Southampton in their 4-4 draw with Swedish side Gothenburg at The Dell.

And it could be that 'Saints' boss Lawrie McMenemy might be tempted to bring another Dutchman into the Football League.

The only problem is that he already has his full quota of two foreign players in Yugoslavian internationals Ivan Katalinic and Ivan Golac.

OXFORD United have cancelled the contract of former Welsh international midfielder player Malcolm Page.

The former Birmingham player made seven appearances for the Third Division club last season, but hasn't figured in the side this season since October.

Geoff Scott — desperate to impress new Birmingham boss Ron Saunders.

DON'T SEND ME BACK!

BIRMINGHAM'S BORROWED DEFENDER GEOFF SCOTT BEGS TO STAY

Match Weekly talks to the loanee who is having to prove he's good enough for a second time . . .

Kevan Broadhurst — Geoff Scott's partner at the centre of Birmingham's defence.

BIRMINGHAM'S borrowed defender Geoff Scott dreads the prospect of a return to Second Division Leicester.

That's why the centre-half is determined to prove, for the second time, that he's the man Birmingham need to help save them from relegation.

Geoff was just 24 hours away from making his loan spell at St Andrews a permanent arrangement when he was shocked by the news that Jim Smith had been sacked as manager.

And now he faces another four weeks of worry as he strives to persuade new boss Ron Saunders to pay out the £70,000 Leicester are asking.

"I don't want to go back to Leicester. I felt I was humiliated there," said Geoff, who joined the Filbert Street club from Stoke two years ago, but has been restricted to just 35 League appearances.

"I've played in the reserves most of this season and yet here I am at Birmingham holding my own in the First Division.

"Even though I was playing well in Leicester's reserves, I wasn't getting a chance in the first team. Manager Jock Wallace doesn't rate me and we didn't see eye to eye.

"I regret making the move in the first place. If I'd known then what I know now I'd have never left Stoke," said Geoff.

"I was becoming the forgotten man of Filbert Street. It got to such a stage that I was beginning to question my own ability.

"This chance at Birmingham has been like a breath of fresh air to me. I've really enjoyed being back in the top flight and would love to join the club.

"I'm a local boy and all my family come from the city. It would be like a dream come true to pick up the pieces of my career at Birmingham," he added.

Geoff made his debut for Birmingham in their 0-0 draw with fellow strugglers Middlesbrough and has played alongside Kevan Broadhurst in the centre of Birmingham's defence ever since.

"I was really disappointed when Jim Smith got the sack because he was on the verge of signing me. His departure left me in limbo. I just didn't know what was going to happen to me.

"It's difficult enough playing in the First Division without having that sort of pressure on you.

"But I'm grateful to the new manager for giving me another chance and I'm determined to prove that I'm good enough for the First Division," said Geoff, whose second loan spell finishes at the end of this month.

"The new manager told me that he'd seen me play a couple of times for Leicester, but said he wanted to watch me in a Birmingham shirt.

"I've been happy with my form since I joined. I've found it easier in the First Division than I did in Leicester reserves.

"The 'Blues' players have been fantastic. They've made me so welcome here," added Geoff.

"I don't think we'll get relegated this season. There are far too many class players here for that to happen.

"Earlier this season, they were taking the goals the defence conceded for granted, because the forwards were scoring at the other end.

"But when the strikers hit a sticky patch and the defence continued letting in goals, it was obvious something had to be done.

"Birmingham never replaced Joe Gallagher when he went to Wolves in the close season and they've suffered for it," said the 24-year-old.

Now Geoff hopes he's the solution to the defensive problem that's seen Birmingham concede more than 41 goals this season.

BIRCH SHAKES OFF MOLINEUX MISERIES

Alan Birch in rare action for Wolves this season — "No-one could believe I wasn't getting a game."

Anthony Hawkswell turns the spotlight on the transfer trail and the dream move that turned sour for striker Alan Birch.

BARNLEY'S new striker Alan Birch claims he wasn't given a chance in the First Division by relegation-haunted Wolves.

Alan talked of his disappointing six months at Molineux after a dream £180,000 move from Third Division Chesterfield at the beginning of the season.

"Once John Barnwell left, I didn't get a chance in the team. Ian Ross took over as caretaker and he didn't rate me, so I spent all my time in the reserves.

"No-one could believe that I wasn't getting a game, especially as things weren't going well on the field."

The final act in Alan's unhappy spell in the Midlands came with the appointment of manager Ian Greaves.

"The new manager told me that the club had financial problems and were going to have to get rid of people. I was one of the players he decided to sell.

Struggling

"It's disappointing because I didn't want to leave Wolves. I'm sure I could have made a success of it, but things were difficult because the team was struggling.

"It was such a magnificent move for me. I never expected it to be such a short one," added Alan, who was sold to Norman Hunter's promotion chasers for £90,000 — half the amount Wolves paid for him.

Even though he was limited to just 13 full League appearances, Alan is still convinced he's good enough to make the grade in the top flight.

"I was quite happy with my form when I did play, even though I played as an out-and-out winger supplying Andy Gray and John Richards. At Chesterfield, I had a free role up front."

That free role saw Alan finish up as Chesterfield's top scorer in the Third Division last season with 22 goals as the club just to get promotion.

..... he hopes to be back

Andy Gray — "I don't give Wolves much chance if they persist in playing him in midfield."

among the goals for Barnsley this season as he reverts to his favourite role.

"Having had a taste of the First Division, I'm hungry to go back. I'll be trying my hardest to help get them up this season," added Alan, who made his debut in the 1-0 home defeat by Norwich.

By a strange twist of fate, Barnsley could replace Wolves in the First Division next season and Alan says: "I can't see my old team getting out of trouble.

"The players seem resigned to relegation. There are a few heads dropping at Molineux and they'll do very well if they avoid relegation.

"I don't give them much chance if they persist in playing Scottish international Andy Gray in midfield. He's needed up front to boost their goal tally.

"They haven't had the best of luck this season. There have been games when results have gone against them when nine times out of ten they'd have got something for it.

"The battles within the club haven't helped either," added Alan, who started his career at Walsall where he made 171 League appearances before moving to Chesterfield.

Alan also believes that Wolves need new blood in the side.

"There are too many players who've been there too long," he said.

"Having said all that, I don't regret moving to Wolves. You can't turn down a First Division club."

SPAIN WON'T WIN IT SAYS ASA HARTFORD

ASA Hartford returned from Scotland's 3-0 defeat at the hands of the World Cup hosts with a message of hope for Northern Ireland.

The Irish face Spain in the opening round of the Finals — along with Honduras and Yugoslavia in Group Five.

And Asa says: "While Spain look to have some very good players, they have their share of average players too."

"I didn't fancy them at the back. They weren't as confident on the ball as you would expect from a Continental side and I think other teams are going to set their defence problems."

Spain have been tipped as possible winners of the World Cup this year — not least because they will be playing on home soil.

But while Asa agrees that, as hosts, Spain have one immediate advantage, he's seen nothing to change the view that Brazil will be the team to beat come June.

"Obviously the hot climate and the majority of fans are going to be on Spain's side, but I can't see them winning it."

"The big centre forward, Satrustegui, looked good in the air against us in our friendly in Valencia."

"And Ufarte, the left winger, was tricky and elusive."

"Gallego came on for the last 20 minutes and scored their third goal. He looked quite useful too."

"And Zamora, the man they are all talking about, didn't play against us. But even with him in the side, I can't see how Spain will be better than Brazil or even Argentina."

Scotland face Brazil in Group Six in the opening round of the Finals and, with Russia in the same group, it's going to be tough for Jack Stein's men.

But Asa suggest Scottish fans shouldn't read too much into the 3-0 friendly defeat in Spain.

"I think anyone who saw the game would agree that our defeat was nothing like as bad as it looks on paper.

"We had two penalty decisions against us and one of them was dubious."

"When we were only 1-0 down, we had a few good chances to get back into the match and overall we had most of the play."

"But the second penalty knocked us down a bit because we didn't think it should have been given."

"Of course it was a prestige match, especially for Spain, but while we were disappointed in defeat, it wasn't as bad as it looks."

"It gave the manager a chance to experiment a bit and it was good experience for everyone."

SCOTLAND'S first big World Cup warm-up match ended in disappointment and defeat. But the message from the Scottish camp is: 'Don't be fooled by the scoreline'.

"For me, Alan Hansen was our best player. He played a sweeper's role behind the back three and alongside, Colin Todd, I think he's the best player in the country in that position."

"One thing that did worry us was the state of the pitch."

"There were bare patches all over the place and they just covered them with grass cuttings to make it look good for match day."

"It was really bumpy and I certainly hope we get a better playing surface when we go back to Spain for the real thing."

"The temperature was only in the mid-sixties and it's certainly going to be hotter in June."

"Our opening games will be played in Malaga and I remember playing there once

ASA HARTFORD — "Our defeat was nothing like as bad as it looks on paper."

while with Everton a couple of years back. "It's still very warm, even at night, and the big thing that hits you is that there's no breeze whatsoever."

"The climate is obviously going to be an advantage to teams like Spain and the South American sides, but we'll be spending a week in the Algarve before the competition starts to get ourselves acclimatised to the heat."

Scotland's next warm-up match is against Holland at Hampden Park on March 24 and victory in that match would naturally provide the players with an ideal boost.

But the Dutchmen are sure to provide Scotland with another stiff test.

Says Asa: "I thought Holland should have won the World Cup on the last two occasions and it's amazing to think they won't be in the Finals this year."

"It's sure to give us a boost if we can beat them but, in an ideal situation, we don't want to hit our peak form until the Finals begin."

STAR GALLERY

SHEFFIELD United striker Bob Hatton deserves a place in 'Star Gallery' for his "devastating heading skills," says Simon Avis, of West Wimbledon, London.

TOTTENHAM manager Keith Burkinshaw is "underrated", says Alun Williams (16), of Flackwell Heath, Bucks. "Keith is doing a great job for Spurs," he adds.

ADRIAN Andrews (12), of Burgess Hill, West Sussex, has drawn Stoke striker Lee Chapman. "Lee is brilliant with his head", says Adrian.

I'M 12 years-old and would like a pen pal who supports Spurs.
Siobhan Sullivan, 65 Salisbury Road, Edmonton, London N9.

SUPPORTING Liverpool is my hobby. I'd like a pen pal who lives in my area.
Shane Nicklin (13), 19 Treborth Road, Blaon, Chester, CH1 5RD.

SOUTHEND are my favourite team but I'd like a pen pal who follows either Nottingham Forest or Ipswich.
Mike Staines (12), 411 Little Wakering Road, Barling Magna, Essex, SS3 0LH.

I'D like a pen pal who supports Sunderland and is my own age.
Mark Bartle (15), 17 Southfield Close, Hurworth, Near Darlington, County Durham.

I'D like a pen pal of my own age who supports any Third Division team. My favourites are Walsall.
Ann Sargent (16), 4 Himley Close, Great Barr, Birmingham, B43 6PX.

CRICKET, golf and supporting Birmingham are my hobbies. My favourite groups are Joy Division and Siouxsie and The Banshees. I'd like a pen pal of my own age.

Neil Hollins (14), 1 Creynolds Close, Cheswick Green, Solihull, West Midlands B90 4EU.

I'M an Arsenal fan and would like a pen pal who lives in West Germany.
Tracy Miller (15), 6 Surrey Crescent, Hill Top, West Bromwich, West Midlands.

EVERTON are my favourite team and I'd like a pen pal from anywhere in Europe.
Andrew Walsh, 25 Bolan Street, Old Swan, Liverpool, L13 6RE.

KENNY Dalglish is my favourite player and Liverpool my top team. I'd like a male pen pal who follows the same team.
Jill Haddow (17), 37 March Road, Ringsend, Gullyhurn, Stirlingshire.

I'D like a pen pal of my own age who supports Falkirk.
Nigel Baillie (19), 26 Millbank Terrace, Maddiston, Falkirk, Stirlingshire.

SOUL and rock music are my hobbies as well as supporting Spurs. I'd like a pen pal of my own age.
Linda Phillips (15), 51 Hunters Road, Chessington, Surrey.

Injury rocks Cooper's World Cup hopes

RANGERS' Davie Cooper doesn't regard himself as a poor relation to Scotland's first choice wingers John Robertson and Davie Provan.

That's why it came as a sickening blow when injury forced him to withdraw from Scotland's squad for the friendly international in Spain last month.

With Robertson and Provan absent through injury, it seemed certain that the tricky Rangers forward would win his third cap.

But now he wonders whether he'll get another chance to impress manager Jock Stein before the final squad is announced.

"I hadn't given the World Cup Finals a thought at the start of the season," says Davie, who won his last cap as a substitute against Austria in October 1979.

"Both John Robertson and Davie Provan have been doing all right in a winning Scotland team, so I didn't expect any changes.

"But this is not to say that I regard myself as being in the line behind those two players.

"I've got plenty of confidence in my ability and I'm certain I could do just as well as them in a Scotland shirt.

"I was not totally surprised at being included in the squad last month.

"I knew Davie was out and I feel that I'm playing my best-ever football for Rangers.

"I've had injury problems during the past two seasons, but this season I've been playing regularly and well.

"If I keep playing well, then I just have to hope that Mr Stein gives me another chance, but my main aim at the moment is to help Rangers win the Scottish Cup.

"I shall be trying as hard as I can for them and, if the chance comes with Scotland again, then that will be a bonus.

"I don't plan my football around internationals. In my mind, Rangers come first."

It's the second time in four months that injury has cost Davie a place in the Scottish squad.

He was recalled to the international arena for Scotland's vital World Cup qualifier in Northern Ireland last October, but an ankle injury ruled him out.

This time, it was a groin strain that forced him to withdraw, leaving Scotland without a recognised wide man in the party when they faced the World Cup hosts.

"I was obviously disappointed, but when I was recalled to the squad I didn't rate my chances very highly," says Davie, who scored the equaliser in Rangers' Scottish League Cup victory over Dundee United earlier this season.

"I had been struggling with a groin strain for several weeks, and with Rangers having a hectic schedule, I had no real chance to rest.

"I was getting through games but it took me several days to recover, so after playing against Dundee United on the Saturday, I knew there was no chance of me being 100 per cent fit for the Spain game in midweek."

THE KEVIN

Tottenham and Liverpool clash on Saturday in the League Cup Final... and regular Match Weekly columnist KEVIN KEEGAN predicts a crowd-pleasing tussle.

IF EVER a game had the makings of a classic cup final, then Saturday's clash between Liverpool and Spurs is it.

The two sides that walk out on to the Wembley turf will contain just about every ingredient you could ask for in a final.

Both teams are full of exciting personalities, full of goalscoring potential and full of the kind of tradition that brings a special atmosphere to this kind of game.

If I had to pick two teams to fill Wembley at the moment, I'd pick these two. I'm just sorry that Southampton are playing on Saturday because I'd love to be among the full house at Wembley to see it.

Liverpool skipper Graeme Souness and Spurs idol Glenn Hoddle are agreed on one thing — that their two sides are currently the most entertaining in the country. I'll go along with that.

Along with Southampton, they are the sort of teams that people will go and watch on a rainy Saturday afternoon. They're winning and they are doing it in style.

The two teams have yet to meet in the League this season so there is no real form guide to go on. But I see it as one of the closest Wembley finals for years.

Liverpool have put their game together in a way that has made them favourites with the bookies to win the Championship. They've got all the other top teams looking nervously over their shoulders.

And the biggest compliment you can pay Spurs is simply that they command as much respect as Liverpool.

Both teams are full of household names, but I think it is dangerous to pick stars out of teams like these. The reason they are good is because they are ALL potential match-winners.

Who would have predicted that Alan Kennedy would score the goal that won the European Cup for Liverpool last season?

Naturally, a lot has been said about Hoddle and there is no doubt that if he is on his game, Glenn will take some stopping.

Those big open spaces at Wembley are made for his long penetrating passes and, unlike his England colleagues, front-runners, Crooks, Galvin, Falco and company will know just what he is going to do with the ball.

Inspiration

But if Glenn has an off-day, Spurs still have the likes of Ossie Ardiles and Ricky Villa, who are both capable of turning a game with a single flash of inspiration. No-one who saw it could forget Villa's mazy dribble and goal against Manchester City in the FA Cup Final.

And don't forget Tony Galvin. I rate him a good player and if I had to pick a man out who is really important to the team, it would be him. If the midfield men are not doing their stuff, if Crooks is not getting the space, Tony is the one who could turn the match.

It's the same with Liverpool. It's said that if you stop Souness playing, you stop the team, but it isn't as easy as that.

What about Ian Rush, who is looking really sharp up front with Kenny Dalglish, Ronnie Whelan, who has a great left foot, and the busy little Sammy Lee? Like Spurs, Liverpool are no one-man band.

There are two players I am particularly pleased for.

Spurs skipper Steve Perryman was being tipped for England when I was starting my career with Scunthorpe. His success levelled off after a while and he has had to wait until late in his career to get his rewards. I'm delighted for him.

Left: Tony Galvin—the Tottenham winger could be the man to turn the match at Wembley.

STAND BY FOR THRILLS!

I'm also happy for my old team-mate Ray Clemence. Ray will be out to prove Liverpool were wrong to sell him — or even that they should consider replacing him when they did — and that will add an extra edge to his game.

Cleri knows Wembley and the big-match atmosphere like the back of his hand but I'd bet that on the day, he'll be as nervous as Bruce Grobbelaar, who will be experiencing his first Wembley in the Liverpool goal.

Clem will still be thinking about the two bad goals he conceded against Aston Villa in the Charity Shield and he'll be out to erase them from his memory. His pride will make him want to put in a special performance.

For Bruce Grobbelaar, it will be a great chance to silence the critics. Despite the stick he has taken this season, he has as many clean sheets under his belt as anyone in the country now.

Ronnie Whelan will be one of four Liverpool players experiencing his first Wembley.

Whatever the outcome of the game, both 'keepers are certain to have plenty to do. Liverpool have been scoring freely lately and Spurs too have found no difficulty in hitting the net.

I'm not saying the score will be 4-3 but I think there will be three or four goals and I wouldn't be surprised to see a replay.

Both teams are so evenly matched on current form it is difficult to separate them. Weaknesses are hard to find.

It might surprise most people to learn that as far as playing at Wembley is concerned, Liverpool have the least experience. It will be the first time there for Grobbelaar, Lawrenson, Whelan and Rush and how they will react on the day is yet to be seen. It could give Spurs the edge!

It's also noticeable that Liverpool have faltered on odd occasions this season where they would not normally do so. Remember they are still rebuilding and it is not so easy to produce the consistency they are used to.

If I was Keith Burkinshaw, I would tell my players to test the 'keeper early on and that pace on the ground is likely to be more effective than the high ball.

Lawrenson and Hansen are likely to dominate in the air and, in any case, players like Crooks are best with the ball at their feet.

If I was Bob Paisley, I would simply tell my players to play as a team, to concentrate on the swift passing game they play best.

It's going to be very tight. One little mistake could make the difference between victory and defeat.

IF current form is any guide, then Liverpool will retain the Football League Cup at Wembley on Saturday.

With the exception of the goalkeepers, where England's Ray Clemence overshadows his Anfield successor Bruce Grobbelaar, Liverpool have the edge in most other departments (see table left).

The marks alongside each player are averages of the ratings they received during February when both teams played seven games (four in the First Division, two League Cup Semi-Final clashes and an FA Cup Fifth Round tie).

And they make fascinating reading . . .

Liverpool skipper Graeme Souness edged out his artistic midfield rival Glenn Hoddle and Terry McDermott shades Argentinian ace Osvaldo Ardiles.

Up front, it's almost evenly balanced, but Liverpool look stronger at the back with new boy Mark Lawrenson the top defender.

The two tables above show how we arrived at our average ratings — giving you each individual mark awarded to the players in the matches played last month.

Swansea salvage Ian's career

Focus on the transfer trail and the move that has given Ian Walsh a new lease of life . . .

SWANSEA manager John Toshack has rescued Welsh striker Ian Walsh from a rut and offered him a First Division lifeline.

Ian admits that he was getting disillusioned with life in and out of the Crystal Palace first team and says: "The move to Swansea couldn't have come at a better time for me.

"I wasn't happy at Palace. I was getting in a rut," added Ian, who joined the First Division new boys in an exchange deal which took fellow Welsh international David Giles to Selhurst Park.

Ian was a member of the young Palace side which stormed to the First Division under manager Terry Venables in 1978-79 and was hailed as 'The Team of the Eighties'.

But things went horribly wrong last season as the London club finished 13 points adrift at the bottom of the First Division after a campaign littered with boardroom and managerial upheavals.

Although a good run in the FA Cup has helped lift the gloom, Palace are now struggling at the wrong end of the Second Division and face the very real threat of relegation to the Third Division.

"Obviously, when we got promotion and Palace were doing well I was very happy, but last season things started to go wrong and it affected everybody," says Ian.

"The boardroom battles and unrest within the club certainly took its toll, although it would be unfair to put all the blame on that. It was down to the players as well.

"But that's all behind me now and I'm really looking forward to starting afresh in the First Division with Swansea," added Ian, who made his debut as substitute for Leighton James in the Welsh club's 2-0 win at Arsenal.

The 23-year-old, who made his Welsh debut against Eire in 1980, knows however that he'll have to fight for his place in the Swansea first team.

"With Swansea going so well at the top of the First Division, there's no need for the manager to change things, but I've got time on my side.

"Obviously, I want to get into the team as soon as possible but I'm prepared to wait for my chance."

Ian is excited about the prospect of working alongside manager John Toshack — himself a former Wales striker.

"There's so much John can teach me and I'm looking forward to learning. I know I'm good in the air, quite quick and can get into scoring positions. What I need is confidence in front of goal.

"I'm sure that playing alongside stars like former England internationals Ray Kennedy and Bob Latchford will also be good for me. They've played with and against some of the best in the world and their experience is bound to rub off."

Ian also hopes that his move back to Wales will help him reclaim his place in the full international side.

Left: Ray Kennedy — "I'm sure playing alongside people like Ray will be good for me," says Ian.

Ian Walsh — "I was in a rut at Palace."

£5 IS THE PRIZE!

I'M Paul Stratton and if my challenger (opposite) can prove he's a better tipster than me, he wins £5!

In the panel below, I've given my predictions for ten selected matches, and you can see my opponent's predictions alongside them.

There's a space for your forecasts and a column for the actual result, so just for fun, you can try and beat me too.

Award two points for every score you get right and one point if you get the result right (i.e. home win, away win, draw), but the scoreline wrong.

Pictured above is my guest opponent this week — 'Match' reader Ian Wilkins of Liverpool. Twelve-year-old Ian is a Liverpool supporter and his favourite player is striker Kenny Dalglish.

GOALKEEPER Phil Parkes saved West Ham from being sunk without trace when they last played Notts County.

He produced a string of wonder saves to earn 'Hammers' a point at Meadow Lane as the First Division newcomers blitzed the goal of their more illustrious opponents.

But despite County's performance that day they remained one of the favourites to drop straight back down into Division Two.

After all, it was only the eleventh game of the season and it's common for any newly promoted team to shine early on.

Now however, County's knockers may not feel quite so confident.

The Nottingham club's 3-1 victory over title favourites Ipswich at Portman Road sent shock waves throughout football.

And a 5-1 away victory at Coventry and 4-0 home victory over Wolves four days later backed up the claim that County are back in the First Division to stay... for at least one season anyway.

So when Jimmy Sirrel's men meet West Ham in the League return at Upton Park on Saturday the tables are somewhat reversed.

Suddenly it's West Ham who are finding life tough at the top.

'Hammers' continue to be a hard nut to crack on their own ground

COUNTY back to stay!

however and I take them to win on Saturday... but not by the margin I would have forecast a couple of months ago.

Fed-up Wolves fans were calling for the chairman's head when the 'Wanderers' went down 3-0 at home to Midlands rivals Aston Villa back in October.

They've seen very little to cheer them up since and there's nothing to suggest Wolves can avenge that defeat when they travel to Villa Park on Saturday with the First Division's worst goalscoring record.

Meanwhile England striker Trevor Francis will have his work cut out to come away from his old club, Nottingham Forest, with anything more than memories.

Manchester City travel to the City Ground having drawn 0-0 with Forest at Maine Road earlier this season.

I've predicted scorelines for ten of Saturday's matches and the challenge is beat me if you can.

As usual there's another fiver at stake in my special challenge against one lucky 'Match' reader (see panel above).

● Bad luck to Kevin Grimmer (my guest opponent in the February 20 issue of 'Match' who drew with me — six points each.

Bruce has the last laugh

LIVERPOOL'S Bruce Grobbelaar has been written off more times this season than hard-up Bristol City.

Since taking over from former Liverpool favourite Ray Clemence at the beginning of the season, Bruce has frequently been criticised for 'erratic' performances in the Anfield goal.

But now it's the Zimbabwe international's turn to have the last laugh as he faces Spurs in the League Cup Final at Wembley on Saturday.

"It was very difficult for me when the media were trying to shove me down all the time," admitted Bruce.

"I had an erratic start and the Press got on my back. Fortunately I didn't let it bother me and I feel I've bounced back and proved them wrong.

"Ray Clemence suffered similar problems in his early days at Spurs, but he had the experience to get over it more quickly than I did.

"After everything that's happened this season, it's tremendous to think that I'm going to Wembley in my first full year as a Liverpool player."

Bruce watched from the sidelines last season as Liverpool lifted the trophy for the first time in their history.

"The players are really determined to retain the trophy. When you win a cup, there's a lot of pride at stake to retain it."

The Liverpool line-up against Spurs will show a couple of important changes from the victorious Villa Park side of last season.

Skipper Phil Thompson can't command a regular place and gone, of course, are Ray Clemence, Ray Kennedy and Jimmy Case.

But Bruce reckons that he and fellow newcomers Ronnie Whelan and Mark Lawrenson will rise to the big occasion and won't let their inexperience show.

"The bigger the occasion, the better the players will perform. I love the big match atmosphere and I'm sure it will lift us."

But Bruce, who was signed from Vancouver Whitecaps for £250,000 last season, knows

Focus on the League Cup Final and the Liverpool goalkeeper who will be making his first Wembley appearance...

LEAGUE CUP FINAL '82

that Spurs won't be an easy team to beat.

"They are the cup side in form at the moment. No side in the First Division is easy, but I rate Spurs as one of the best.

"They showed how dangerous they are last season when they won the FA Cup, but they've added consistency to their game since they bought my old club-mate Ray Clemence.

"He's added stability to the defence and that's why they are still well in the hunt for four major honours this season."

But the players former Crewe star Bruce admires most, are Tottenham's Argentinian imports Ricky Villa and Ossie Ardiles.

"They add an exciting dimension to Spurs' style of play. Anything can happen when they've got the ball.

"Glenn Hoddle is very much in the same mould and we are going to have our hands full dealing with their talented midfield," said Bruce.

As well as the League Cup, Liverpool are still well placed to retain the European Cup and remain a good outside bet for their 13th First Division title.

"It's important that we don't place too much emphasis on one particular prize otherwise that could spell disappointment," says Bruce.

"At the moment, it's so important that we play to the best of our ability in each game."

AUSTRIA IN MANAGER WRANGLE

A GREAT struggle is going on to decide who will be the Austrian manager during the World Cup Finals.

The hot favourite to replace Karl Stotz, who left after falling out with the President of the Austrian FA is Ernst Happel, formerly in charge of Holland.

However, Happel's current employers, Hamburg, challenging for the German championship, are not willing to let him take up the international post at the same time as running the club.

As a club spokesman put it: "How can he pass in just a few days from managing the German internationals at Hamburg to planning how to beat them for Austria?"

And so Austria now appear likely to be without settled management when the Finals begin.

Other candidates for the job are Helmut Senekowitch and Hermann Stessl.

Hosts hammer out warning

WORLD Cup hosts Spain issued a warning to the rest of the finalists with a comfortable 3-0 defeat of Scotland in Valencia.

Spain manager Jose Santamaria has already stated in one of his country's magazines that they will win the World Cup for the first time.

And in the defeat of Scotland they showed that they will be one of the major forces in the Finals.

But it was not until the last six minutes that the Scottish hopes were finally buried by two goals.

Victor put Spain ahead in the first half, following up a Quini penalty kick that was saved by Alan Rough.

Spain scored from a second penalty six minutes from time through Quini and Gallego rounded matters off two minutes later.

Spain are taking no chances in their preparations for the Finals.

They have arranged two more friendly games to their build-up programme which includes high altitude work in the Pyrenees.

They face Wales on March 24 and Switzerland on April 28.

FRANCE IN FORM

FRANCE, England's first opponents in the World Cup Finals, hammered out a warning with a 2-0 friendly victory over Italy in Paris.

Michel Platini (above) and Daniel Bravo scored the goals that gave France their first victory over Italy since the 1920 Olympics in Antwerp.

13 WEEKS TO GO...

Maradona in money wrangle

RUMOURS in Argentina are that Boca Juniors may have to sell the brilliant Diego Maradona to Barcelona via his old club Argentinos Juniors to stop both the Argentinian teams going bankrupt.

The young striker is at the centre of a row that could save the clubs because Boca have not yet paid up the transfer fee, and Argentinos have no money to pay their players' wages.

The solution seems to be that Boca send Maradona back to Argentinos who then sell him for a fee which would be around the £2.5 million mark.

asics TIGER

Why are the ASICS TIGER "SUPREME" football boots so good.

The answer lies in the boot construction. We all know it is very difficult to maintain your footing and the feet are liable to slip and stumble and we think that with the construction of our new "SUPREME" boot that we can stop many of these problems. ALAN DEVONSHIRE of WESTHAM and ENGLAND says that ASICS TIGER boots are the best! and never plays a game without them.

The ASICS TIGER "SUPREME" lightweight boot is made from the very best, buffalo calf, so that the uppers fit perfectly and allow more accurate kicking and ball control. Available in sizes 6-11 including half sizes. Colour Black with White stripes.

NORTH EAST FOOTBALL SPECIAL REPORT

AFTER highlighting the problems of relegation-haunted Sunderland and Middlesbrough last week, Match turns the spotlight on Newcastle United, who are ready to return to the top flight. Keeper Kevin Carr assesses their chances and talks of the pressure on the players.

Geordie giants are stirring

SLEEPING giants Newcastle are ready to wake up and become a football power once again.

The once-mighty 'Magpies' are on the fringe of the Second Division promotion battle and providing the North East's only bright spot this season as Middlesbrough and Sunderland fight desperately for their lives in the top flight.

"We've got ourselves in a fairly healthy position. It's up to us to grab the chances," said their 23-year-old keeper Kevin Carr.

Being a local lad — he was born in Ashington — Kevin knows just how much football means to the people of the North East and it hurts him to see the area so depressed.

"The fans live for football up here, but in recent years everyone has been down in the dumps. They haven't had that much to cheer about. We'd love to bring back the smile to their faces.

"The area deserves a successful team. It would be a shame next season if Middlesbrough, Sunderland and ourselves were all in the Second Division.

"We're getting an average crowd of around 20,000 this season at St James' Park. I know they'd flock back in their droves if we were in the top flight.

"I remember the days when derby matches against Sunderland used to bring in about 60,000. It would be great to see that happen again."

But Kevin — a lifelong Newcastle fan — knows that his team face a tough task if they are to go up this season.

"We're a 'Jekyll and Hyde' team. We've got one of the best home records in the Second Division and yet we can't convert that form when we visit other clubs."

Up to their 3-0 defeat at Leicester, Newcastle had been beaten just once at home, while they'd won only twice away.

"If we are to be serious contenders, we can't keep going to places and losing. I suppose we miss our fanatical support — although we get a lot of travelling fans.

"At home, the fans are worth at least two more men on the field. They are an inspiration to us," said Kevin.

The current Newcastle players have to live with the ghost of the past continually haunting them. Kevin admitted: "People are always coming up to us and talking about the glory days.

"They love to remind us of the legendary cup-winning sides of the 1950s and the team which won the Fairs Cup. But it's something we've got to put to the back of our minds.

"Because of the great past, the fans on the terraces sometimes get very frustrated. Their attitude can destroy players.

"But if we can win promotion, we'll have earned our own place in the record books," he added.

Newcastle haven't been in the First Division since 1978 and Kevin played nine games in that disastrous year for the famous club.

Clear-out

"I was only 18 and very naive at the time but I still remember the feeling of despondency in the area when we went down.

"Since then, there's been a complete clear-out of personnel. We've had a couple of managers and only myself and fellow 'keeper Steve Hardwick remain on the playing staff.

"The new manager has put a lot of emphasis on youth — and I believe that if we were to go up, we could hold our own in the First Division.

"The progress of Swansea in their first season in the top flight gives every promotion challenging team the incentive they need.

"Newcastle are big enough to be a First Division club and that's where they belong."

One of the proudest moments of Kevin's career came last season when he picked up the Newcastle United Player of the Year award.

"As a local lad, that meant everything to me. I can't put into words my feelings when I received the honour. I just hope I can go one better and help the club back into the First Division."

THE race is on to find Match Weekly's 'Top Stopper' — the goalkeeper with the safest hands in soccer.

We've compiled exclusive tables — so popular with the fans — which show you who is performing the best between the posts this term.

—Bailey powers on

TOP STOPPERS

THE challenge to unseat Manchester United's Gary Bailey as the First Division's 'Top Stopper' is already fading. While the England 'B' international has improved his impressive record during the past month, the South Coast threat from Brighton's Graham Moseley and Southampton's Ivan Katalinic has dramatically waned.

Brighton's crushing 4-0 defeat at Manchester City dented Moseley's record, while Alan Brazil shattered Katalinic's hopes with his five-goal blast for Ipswich.

With Pat Jennings stationary in second spot having been sidelined through injury, United's Bailey, last season's winner, has increased his lead.

He conceded only 13 goals in his first 22 First Division matches which meant he let in one goal, on average, every two and a half hours.

Liverpool's Bruce Grobbelaar, has moved up to joint third place, while his Anfield predecessor, Tottenham's Ray Clemence, is also mounting a challenge.

But for the moment Gary Bailey is looking invincible — at a time when he hopes to land a place in the England squad for Spain.

Paul Barron is still leading the way in the Second Division despite Crystal Palace's relegation problems, but there have been changes in the lower sections.

Southend's John Keeley is the new pacemaker in the Third Division, having overhauled Chesterfield's John Turner, while Bournemouth's Ian Leigh tops Division Four, having conceded just 13 goals in 19 games.

Incidentally, both Keeley and Leigh began the season as reserve players, but both have taken full advantage of injuries to first choice keepers Mervyn Cawston at Southend and Ken Allen at Bournemouth.

THE first column after the goalkeeper's name in the table shows the number of League games each keeper has played.

The second column shows the number of goals conceded and the third column the average number of minutes play between each goal.

For instance, Aston Villa's Jimmy Rimmer conceded, on average, one goal every 71 minutes during his 26 League matches.

OUTRAGED at something concerning soccer? Then write and tell us about it. But remember, you risk the wrath of the 'Match' referee who may book you or, worse still, send you off!

Just to soften the blow, the person who gets his marching orders wins £5 and those whose names are taken get £2.

Gunning for the moaners

I AM outraged that Arsenal are being criticised for winning games by a single goal.

Arsenal's tactics have proved successful. Look at their League position. Their supporters should stay faithful and be less critical.

Gary Jernsterle, Windsor, Berkshire.

● WHEN Arsenal's own chairman hits out at the team for being negative, how can you blame the fans for staying away? You're sent off.

Sent off!

OVER-PRICED

I'M outraged about the spiral in transfer fees that has seen players like Bryan Robson, Trevor Francis, Ian Wallace, Justin Fashanu and Frank Stapleton move clubs for £1 million or over.

Back in the 1960's players like Denis Law, Bobby Charlton or George Best were never transferred for that sort of money. What would they cost now?

Michael McAreavey, Skene, Aberdeenshire.

● MORE money than it would take to get Laker Airways flying again. You're booked for trying to put a price on genius!

DON'T CRY FOR IPSWICH

I'M outraged at the sympathy shown towards Ipswich. A couple of their players get injured, they lose a few games, and everyone feels sorry for them.

The truth is that Ipswich have a weak squad.

Philip Keys, Ashwellthorpe, Norfolk.

● A COUPLE of injuries? Ipswich's casualty list reads: Osman, Butcher, Gates, Mariner, Brazil, Thijssen, Muhren . . . losing so many first team players would cripple any team. You're booked.

No loyalty

I WAS saddened by the behaviour of Ian Greaves.

As Oxford's manager, he appealed for help to stop the club from closure.

Help came in the shape of millionaire Robert Maxwell, who pledged his support. The Oxford public paid up to keep the club running and the team responded by winning at Brighton in the FA Cup.

Then Greaves decided to quit the club to take over at Wolverhampton. Why couldn't he stay loyal to Oxford?

Greg Littlewood, Woodborough, Notts.

Gold, Rush!

I COULD hardly believe it when Ian Rush took over from David Johnson as striking partner to Kenny Dalglish in the Liverpool forward line.

But I have been pleasantly surprised. Rush has improved tremendously and has formed a lethal partnership with Dalglish.

Rush gets my vote for Player of the Year for 1982!

Altat Khan, Bolton, Lancashire.

BACK THE BOSS!

BRITISH football has been shocked by the resignation of Aston Villa manager Ron Saunders.

But this shows just how much football club chairmen are interfering with the duties of their managers.

Boardroom politics caused John Barnwell's departure from Wolves as well as Saunders' resignation. And these are two good, honest bosses.

Dave Webb of Bournemouth is the latest manager to be involved in a rumpus. Fortunately, his chairman Harold Walker had the sense to get him back and promise to steer clear of managerial issues.

Let's hope that other League chairmen take note of what happened at Villa Park, Molineux and Dean Court and let managers get on with what they are paid to do.

David Crouch (15), Wombourne, Wolverhampton.

Swansea's Gary Stanley — he's in David Drewry's ex-Everton team to beat the best.

Ex-Everton aces

HERE'S a team of ex-Everton players that would take a lot of beating:

George Wood (Arsenal), John Gidman (Man. Utd), Neil Robinson (Swansea), Colin Todd (Birmingham), Ken McNaught (Aston Villa), Micky Thomas (Brighton), Gary Stanley (Swansea), Asa Hartford (Man. City), Martin Dobson (Burnley), Bob Latchford (Swansea), Imre Varadi (Newcastle). Sub: Eammon O'Keefe (Wigan). Manager: Gordon Lee (Preston).

David Drewry (14), Gorleston-on-Sea, Norfolk.

Souness must lead Scots

THE days of Asa Hartford as Scotland skipper are numbered. The man to lead Scotland in the World Cup Finals is Graeme Souness.

Since Souness took over the captaincy of Liverpool, the Reds have won a League Cup Final place and have shot up the League.

Graeme's leadership has been inspirational, and this fact won't have gone unnoticed by Scotland boss Jock Stein.

Jim Cook, Brandon, Suffolk.

Asa Hartford — his days as Scotland skipper are numbered says Jim Cook.

A STRIKING DEFICIENCY

WHY on earth do Sunderland persist in trying to sign defenders?

There's nothing wrong with the Sunderland defence, but manager Alan Durban has bought Ian Munro from Stoke and tried to sign Jimmy Nicholl and Mick Mills.

Durban should concentrate on his attack. Apart from big-hearted Stan Cummins, Sunderland haven't got a First Division class forward.

Durban must buy a top class striker now. Or it may be too late to stop them sliding into the Second Division.

Martin Anderson, East Herrington, Sunderland.

Stan Cummins — Sunderland's only First Division class forward, says Martin Anderson.

I'M FOR SUMMER SOCCER

IT'S time football faced up to the crisis ahead and did something positive to combat dwindling attendances.

I would introduce summer football, scrap the offside law and abolish back-passes to goalkeepers.

Martin Thomas (11), Bury, Lancashire.

Ban blunder

I AM angry that the FA have lifted their ban on Chelsea fans travelling to away League games.

I went to the Derby v Chelsea match and the behaviour of the Chelsea fans was shocking.

If these hooligans are allowed to travel the country unchecked, ultimately the League will crack down and Stamford Bridge will be closed.

Sam Easton, Burton-on-Trent, Staffs.

Smillie makes 'em SMILE!

GOLDEN GOAL

Neil Smillie (Crystal Palace)
v Orient, FA Cup Fifth Round replay,
Brisbane Road, Tues. Feb 16, 1982

IF ever a goal deserved to win a vital FA Cup replay then Crystal Palace's Neil Smillie produced it in the London derby at Orient.

The explosive 12th minute goal aptly settled the Fifth Round replay and took Palace to within sight of Wembley in a season when they are fighting for their lives in the Second Division.

A brave, telling run from Jerry Murphy and two crisp first time passes paved the way for young Smillie to provide the clinical finish with a crunching volley from outside the penalty area.

It was as if new manager Steve Kember had set up the move in a training session.

Jerry Murphy's run from inside the Palace half ended with Kevin Mabbutt accepting his pass on the right flank.

His first time cross found Tommy Langley lurking on the edge of the penalty area.

Without hesitation he delicately laid the ball first time into the path of the advancing Smillie whose volley flew into the top corner.

Orient goalkeeper Mervyn Day made a bold attempt to keep a clean sheet, but he could only help the ball on its way into the roof of the net.

It was only Smillie's second goal of the season, but one that he is likely to savour for a very long time.

SUPER SOUNESS!

FOR the second successive time, a Liverpool player is Match Weekly's First Division 'Matchman of the Month'.

Following in the footsteps of young Welsh striker Ian Rush is Liverpool skipper and midfield inspiration Graeme Souness.

The Scottish maestro earned some outstanding ratings, including a maximum mark of ten for his performance in the 4-0 crushing of Ipswich.

Ipswich striker Alan Brazil also collected a 'maximum' for his five-goal show against Southampton, but still had to settle for second place behind his Scottish international colleague.

Ironically, Manchester United's reserve defender Jimmy Nicholl earned a share of second place for three outstanding performances while on loan to Sunderland.

January winner Ian Rush also topped the eight mark for the second successive month to underline his dramatic progress.

WARDLE'S A WIZARD

BOB Wardle, goalkeeper of FA Cup giant-killers Shrewsbury, had a brilliant month for the Second Division side.

He received the star rating in four of their five League matches to finish with an impressive average mark of 8.40, easily the top mark in the lower divisions.

He finished ahead of Orient new boy Colin Foster, with Charlton's Paul Walsh, Blackburn's Noel Brotherton and Luton's Colin Stein sharing third place.

Shrewsbury goalkeeper Bob Wardle — the Second Division's most consistent performer during February.

DIVISION ONE

Player	Games	Average
Graeme Souness (Liverpool)	4	8.50
Alan Brazil (Ipswich)	3	8.33
Jimmy Nicholl (Sunderland)	3	8.33
Ian Rush (Liverpool)	4	8.00
Billy Bonds (West Ham)	5	7.80
Trevor Francis (Man. City)	4	7.75
Mark Lawrenson (Liverpool)	4	7.75

MATCH MAN OF THE MONTH

PRESENTING our 'Matchman of the Month' awards for February.

The honours are based on individual player ratings in League matches included in our exclusive 'Match Facts' section.

A player must figure in at least three League matches during the month to qualify.

Each of the five winners will receive an inscribed plaque.

DIVISION TWO

Player	Games	Average
Bob Wardle (Shrewsbury)	5	8.40
Colin Foster (Orient)	3	8.33
Noel Brotherton (Blackburn)	4	8.00
Paul Walsh (Charlton)	4	8.00
Colin Stein (Luton)	3	8.00
Steve Spriggs (Cambridge)	5	7.80

KING BILLY

AFTER a tight-run race, Chesterfield's Billy Wilson has lifted the Third Division honour.

He finished with the same average mark, 7.66, as Southend defender Dave Cusack.

Both achieved four star ratings in six matches, but Wilson had two marks of nine during the month while Cusack never went above eight.

DIVISION THREE

Player	Games	Average
Billy Wilson (Chesterfield)	6	7.66
Dave Cusack (Southend)	6	7.66
Keith Houghton (Carlisle)	6	7.50
Peter Hart (Walsall)	6	7.50
Chris Kamara (Brentford)	4	7.50

COOKE SERVES UP THE GOALS

ROBBIE Cooke's goalscoring exploits for Peterborough have earned him the Fourth Division accolade.

During last month, he scored nine goals in five games including a hat-trick against Hartlepool — his second of the season.

But he only just pipped Darlington defender Kevan Smith by virtue of four star ratings to three.

With an average mark of 7.83, they finished well ahead of Colchester goalkeeper Mike Walker.

● Fourth Division 'Matchman of the Month' Robbie Cooke is featured on page 37 of this week's issue.

DIVISION FOUR

Player	Games	Average
Robbie Cooke (Peterborough)	6	7.83
Kevan Smith (Darlington)	6	7.83
Mike Walker (Colchester)	5	7.60
Osher Williams (Stockport)	7	7.57
Terry Park (Stockport)	7	7.57

SANDY STRIKES THE TOP

AIRDRIE'S top scorer Sandy Clark proved the outstanding player in the Scottish Premier Division last month.

His average mark of 8.00 left him ahead of Aberdeen defender Willie Miller and Dundee United's midfield player Eamonn Bannon.

SCOTTISH PREMIER

Player	Games	Average
Sandy Clark (Airdrie)	3	8.00
Willie Miller (Aberdeen)	4	7.50
Eamonn Bannon (Dundee Utd)	4	7.50
Kenny Watson (Partick)	5	7.40

This is it...the best results service in football

MATCH FACTS is a unique results service, providing you with a remarkably detailed guide to League, League Cup and FA Cup games in England and Scotland. There are several things that make Match Facts considerably better than other less complete services.

Firstly, it is BANG up-to-date, bringing you all the information on the previous week's games only four days after each Saturday's programme. It also provides EXTRA information... like an entertainment value of up to five stars for each game and star ratings out of ten of each player's performance.

Each month these player ratings determine the Matchman of the Month in each of the four English divisions plus the Scottish Premier.

Match Facts also includes League tables and the extra bonus of the leading scorers in each division.

No other publication provides such a service.

ENGLAND WORLD CUP 82

This is an official Football Association publication - and it's great.

Really compulsive reading - even adults will like it.

We've got England's rough road to Spain with detailed reports on all our matches plus a special colour spread featuring Mariner's goal against Hungary.

Fourteen pages devoted to all the teams playing in Spain.

There are pages of World Cup results from 1930 and we come right up-to-date with the results and tables for the 1982 World Cup and the draw in Madrid.

The big plus: We've got some of the leading sports journalists to write really great articles on the key England players, the backroom boys and even the press - with star profiles on World Cup giants of the past.

The Whitethorn Press Limited Thomson House Withy Grove Manchester M60 4BL Telephone 061 834 1234

Plenty of action shots - many in colour.

Finally a double plus: a free competition with a football autographed by the entire England squad and for the runners-up - Admiral England tracksuits!!

Don't be caught off-side. Buy your copy now!

Price £3.95.

Obtainable from local booksellers, newsagents, department stores and your local football club souvenir shop.

Mike Hazard

LAST week's issue of Match Weekly contained a feature on Spurs midfield player Mike Hazard entitled 'Make way for Mike'. Mike would like us to point out that his comments regarding his team-mates Ossie Ardiles and Ricky Villa were misinterpreted and for that we apologise.
Mike stresses that Ardiles and Villa are two of the players he most admires in the Spurs team and that in no way does he wish them to leave the club.
Match Weekly fully understands that Mike was simply pointing out that the Argentinian duo obviously make it difficult for him to establish his own place and we hope that our readers did not take our front page heading — 'Why I want Ossie to go' — out of context.

Robbie Cooke — the League's deadliest marksman over the past two seasons.

THIRST FOR GOALS

LESS than two years ago Peterborough striker Robbie Cooke was plugging leaks in houses as well as finding them in opposing defences on Saturdays for non-League Grantham.

Now, as the former plumbing engineer blasts Peterborough towards promotion to the Third Division with his unquenchable thirst for goals, he revels in the distinction of being the League's deadliest marksmen over the past two seasons.

Since his League career was revived by Peterborough last season at the cut-price figure of £12,000, he has scored 52 League and Cup goals at a remarkable average of more than one every other game.

With 29 goals last season and 23 so far this term, his goal-grabbing exploits must be making Mansfield see red. They ditched him after just 15 League matches!

Robbie admits that it has been something of a relief to stay among the goals after such a dramatic return to League football last season.

"If I hadn't continued to score goals then people might have classed me as a one-season wonder," he says.

"But I think I've proved it was not a flash in the pan.

"Mind you, I was always confident that I would continue to score.

"I set myself a target of twenty goals at the start of the season, but, having achieved that already, I'm now aiming for the thirty mark.

In one spell around Christmas, he went seven League games without a goal and everyone wondered whether his source had dried up.

But he responded with ten goals in the next seven matches to boost Peterborough's promotion hopes.

"I probably lost a bit of confidence in front of goal in that spell, but a fluke tap-in goal against Stockport, which ended the lean run, helped me back on course.

"I would like to play at a higher level, but all I can do is keep scoring and see what happens.

"I've scored against teams from higher divisions in the cup competitions and that's my only guide at the moment."

Now Robbie hopes he can maintain his form in front of goal to aid Peterborough's promotion push.

"We just missed out last season when we felt that we were better than the teams promoted, but they had the consistency over 46 matches.

"This season, we are gradually showing more consistency and have tightened up at the back.

"Last season we tended to give away silly goals at the wrong times, but this time the defence as a whole is working better as a unit.

"If anything, we are a better side this season and I feel we are in a stronger position this time to go up.

"It's going to be a tight finish, but we have most of our rivals to play at home, and I see no reason why we shouldn't make it."

Focus on Divisions Three and Four with Melvyn Beck

Fans' man

SUPPORTERS of Third Division strugglers Chester have raised £20,000 to buy a new player.

Hereford relief!

FOURTH Division Hereford's barren spell in front of their own fans ended with a 2-1 victory over bottom club Northampton on February 20.

It was Hereford's first League win at Edgar Street for five months and it boosted their chances of staying away from the re-election zone where they finished last season.

Peter the third

DEFENDER Peter Shaw is the third Charlton player to join Third Division Gillingham this season.

He has followed Dick Tydeman and Colin Powell to Priestfield where former Charlton winger Keith Peacock is in charge.

But it was not a happy debut for Peter at Exeter for he conceded the penalty that earned the home side a point.

Gary's proudest moment

PATIENCE has finally paid off for 18-year-old Gary Loughran who joined the Port Vale professional ranks this season.

"It's the proudest moment of my life to be taken on as a professional footballer," says midfielder player Gary who had been with Aston Villa on schoolboy forms.

He also had trials with home club Middlesbrough, Coventry and Hereford before being given a chance by Fourth Division Vale.

Massey on the move

NORTHAMPTON, struggling at the bottom of the Fourth Division, have signed striker Steve Massey from near neighbours Peterborough in a bid to boost their attack.

He has joined them until the end of the season on a free transfer.

He joined Peterborough at the start of the season from Bournemouth.

Spurs goalkeeper Ray Clemence is pictured with the League Cup following Liverpool's victory over West Ham last season. Now he's bidding to hold on to the prized silverware — this time at the expense of his former club . . .

RAY OF THE ROVERS!

RAY Clemence — a Liverpool legend after 14 years at Anfield — faces his old team-mates for the first time in the League Cup Final at Wembley on Saturday.

And the England keeper, who made a shock £300,000 move to Spurs in the close season, admits: "I couldn't have written it better myself. It's real comic story stuff.

"We were meant to have met in the League at White Hart Lane in December, but the match was called off because of the bad weather. Now I'm pleased it was.

"I just don't know what my reaction will be when I come out of our dressing room at Wembley and come face to face with all my old Liverpool friends.

"I'll try hard to treat the game just like any other, but I know that it will be really difficult," says Ray, who made 470 appearances for Liverpool and won every club honour except a European Cup-Winners' Cup medal.

"Obviously I've got an extra special reason for wanting to win against Liverpool, but I've always given 100 per cent in every single game I've played, so my effort at Wembley can't be any greater."

Ray admits that the critics who wrote him off earlier this season helped him to play a major part in getting Spurs to the League Cup Final for the third time in the club's history.

"I conceded a few goals in my early days at Spurs and everyone started to write me off. In many ways, that was the best thing that could have happened to me.

"I was determined to make them eat their words and I think I've done that by helping the club to Wembley."

Despite his early problems with the FA Cup holders, Ray has never once regretted his move to London.

"I never doubted my own ability. I knew that it would take time for me to get used to my new defence.

"I needed a new challenge after such a long time at Liverpool. It was getting difficult for me to motivate myself after winning so much at Anfield."

Even though Ray has won such a sparkling array of honours in his distinguished career, he's still determined to add more silverware to his vast collection.

"I thrive on winning medals and I knew that if I joined Spurs, I'd have a chance of winning even more," he says.

Ray, who helped Liverpool lift the League Cup last year in a replay win over West Ham, knows his new team face a tough task if they are to stop the holders retaining the trophy.

"Liverpool are a great side. The people who wrote them off earlier this season needed their heads testing. They've always got stronger and stronger as the season goes on.

"We'll have to play to the best of our ability if we are going to beat them. They are so well organised in defence and have tremendous ability going forward.

"But we've been enjoying a great run ourselves in the last couple of months so we must be confident that we can win the Cup.

"It's a marvellous Final in prospect, between two of the best teams in the country. It's just the sort of glamour tie that the League Cup needs.

"Because both teams love to go forward, it could be a case of which defence holds out the longest. One piece of individual skill could decide the issue.

"The Liverpool side has gone through a transition this season, but I think everyone knew that a change was on the cards.

"The youngsters who've come in have proved that they are up to the job and one of the lads who's really impressed me is Welsh international striker Ian Rush. We are going to have our hands full with him.

"The fact that Mark Lawrenson has been keeping former skipper Phil Thompson out of the side shows just how strong the Liverpool squad is at the moment."

Ray has taken a special interest in the man who replaced him between the sticks at Anfield — Zimbabwe international Bruce Grobbelaar.

"Like me, Bruce had his problems early on, but he's since shown himself to be a confident and talented 'keeper.

"When he has been caught out this season I think it's been down to his inexperience and immaturity in goalkeeping."
